

California University of Pennsylvania

250 University Avenue
California, PA 15419-1394
www.calu.edu

PROFESSIONAL GOLF MANAGEMENT

Building Character. Building Careers.

724-938-6048 / 724-938-6050 FAX

December 28, 2011

I have served as Evan's academic advisor as well as his professor for a number of academic courses. During each semester, we speak on almost a daily basis regarding issues which relate to his academic success and career goals. Over this time, I have had the pleasure to observe Evan's strong work ethic, willingness to learn, and unending desire to succeed.

During the past academic year, Evan has demonstrated a strong commitment to actively participate in all facets of the Professional Golf Management (PGM) academic program. As a member of the PGM Student Society he spearheaded the University's efforts to support the PGA's "Patriot Golf Day" charitable fundraiser by working with students, faculty and local organizations to raise money for the families of fallen US soldiers. Furthermore, he has supported a number of Grow the Game initiatives through his service to the Tri-State PGA Section as their junior golf tournament coordinator. Through his dedication to service, I know Evan is committed to furthering himself and his career aspirations through the time and efforts he bestows to others. Characteristics such as these are hard to find in anyone not to mention a young man who is just starting through life's journey.

Evan is the kind of person who will excel at any challenge he chooses to face and the PGM program will continue to reach new levels of success due to the efforts of students like Evan.

If you have any further questions about Mr. Matoske please do not hesitate to call.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in blue ink that reads "Justin D. Barroner".

Justin D. Barroner, MS, PGA, CGFI, PGS
PGM Program Director and PGA Certified Professional
Professional Golf Management
California University of Pennsylvania
250 University Avenue
California, PA 15419-1394
Office: 724-938-6032